- 2.1 Illustrations in our catalogue, sales literature, and advertisements. Any specifications, drawings, dimensions etc, are intended as a guide only. 3. YOUR PLANNING VISIT/ INSTORE OR VIRTUAL APPOINTMENT

- 3.1 Before your appointment . We'll get in touch to go over a few things you'll need to prepare. It is important that the person with the authority to make decisions about the kitchen is present for the entire appointment and that they are over 18 years of age. If that's not you, please make sure the decision maker is present throughout your appointments. The purpose of the in-home planning visit is to assess your requirements, discuss a design, take measurements of your kitchen, and to enable us to provide you with an estimate for consideration. Please allow for this appointment to be around 2 hours in length.
- 3.2 Instore / virtual appointment. Measurements and supporting information can be provided before your appointment. An additional appointment at the relevant property will also be necessary in order for us to check measurements and finalise plans.
- 3.3 Other works. If other works to the room in question are being undertaken, we may be able to provide you with a CAD (computer-aided design) design and an appropriate estimate, but these may be subject to change and a further measurement appointment will be required. It is your responsibility to inform us of any changes to the room layout and measurements.
- 3.4 Basis of your estimates. Estimates are provided based on the current costs of products and installation services necessary to complete your project at the time of the estimate. Please be aware that these costs may be subject to change.
- 3.5 Loss of earnings. Please be aware that we are unable to offer compensation for any loss of earnings or other potential losses that may arise from your need to be present for appointments. We will not be held responsible for any losses that occur as a result of rescheduling or cancelling appointments. Rest assured, we will make every effort to notify you in advance if there are any changes to your scheduled appointments.

4. YOUR ESTIMATE

- 4.1 Your estimate. We will provide you with an estimate and (where relevant to the order) a CAD drawing. Once you receive your estimate, we reserve the right to re-estimate. We will re-estimate a maximum of three times please be aware that prices are subject to change.
- 4.2 Price Validity. The price given is valid for 28 days from the date of the original estimate, after which time, if you have not accepted, the estimated prices may be subject to change.
- 4.3 Measurements used for your plan and estimate. Your plan and estimate will be prepared using either measurements taken by our planner in your home, your own measurements, or your architect's or surveyor's drawings. Measurements provided by you or your third parties will be your responsibility. Should there be any additional costs resulting from inaccuracies in drawings or measurements, these costs shall be borne by you.
- 4.3.1 Plan and supply with installation. Where you provide your own measurements, we will complete a check measure before you accept the estimate. If this is not possible or you have opted to proceed without a check measure, you are responsible for the sizes provided as outlined in clause 4.3. John Lewis cannot be held responsible for any issues or additional costs that arise if it is later found that the measurements provided were inaccurate or amended, resulting in kitchen items that do not fit as planned.
- 4.3.2 Plan and supply without installation. If you are working with your own installer it is crucial that you arrange for a site survey to be conducted by a tradesperson who is both qualified and capable of performing a detailed technical survey of a kitchen space. This should be done before you accept the estimate. Where you provide your own measurements, we will complete a check measure before you accept the estimate. If this is not possible or you have opted to proceed without a check measure, you are responsible for sizes provided as outlined in clause 4.3. John Lewis cannot be held responsible for any issues or additional costs that arise if it is later found that the measurements provided were inaccurate or amended, resulting in kitchen items that do not fit as planned.
- 4.4 The reviewing and checking of plans, elevations and perspectives. We ask that you thoroughly review and check any plans, elevations, and perspectives that we generate for you using our CAD system. It is your responsibility to satisfy yourself that the information given in the final estimate meets your requirements.

Please review and check:

- 4.4.1 Kitchen range - colour and finish;
- 4.4.2 Handle and door knob choice;

- 4.4.3 Worktop design including edging, thickness, upstands, finish, and dimensions;
 - 4.4.4 Appliance choices ensuring you understand the functionality of each item;
 - 4.4.5 Your splashback or cladding choices;
 - 4.4.6 Your kitchen accessories i.e. kitchen tap and sinks; and
 - 4.4.7 Any additional elements or features that are part of your kitchen project.
- 4.5 CAD drawings - note that elevations, perspective drawings, and colours are for illustration purposes only and are not presented to scale.
- 4.6 Samples. Please be mindful that when placing your order, samples are intended as a guide for colour and an exact match with the samples cannot be guaranteed. You won't be able to reject the products, nor claim compensation for variations that fall within the tolerance between the sample and/or description of the products.
- 4.7 Please be sure to look at samples before you sign the acceptance form. Please be advised that Natural Stone and wood are natural materials, and as such, variations in colour, veining/pitting, and graining are to be expected. The worktops you receive may differ from the samples or shop-floor displays you have viewed due to these inherent characteristics. Please refer specifically to Section 5.
- 4.8 Minor changes to the products. We may change the product:
- (i) to reflect changes in relevant laws and regulatory requirements; and/or
 - (ii) to implement minor technical adjustments and improvements.
- These changes will not affect your use of the products and we'll notify you of any changes in writing.
- 4.9 Substitution. We will endeavour to supply all products in line with your estimate, we reserve the right to substitute these where there are:
- 4.9.1 Availability issues; and or Discontinuations.
- In these instances, a suitable alternative will be recommended. Any changes relative to the original cost will be discussed with you, this may mean that additional incremental costs are passed on to you and this will also apply to reductions.
- 4.10 Furniture / worktops with components made of wood. Components made of wood or covered with wood veneers will display a variety of natural grain and colour characteristics that are typical of the type of timber chosen, some of which may not necessarily appear in showroom displays or in photographs of the furniture range. These can include knots, ripples, medullary rays (radial planar structures, perpendicular to the growth rings and radiating lines from the centre), and natural variations of colouration. Please consider this point carefully – we cannot supply specially matched components.

- 4.11 Extraction/ventilation. You should also be aware that if furniture items are to be installed then these will deteriorate through prolonged periods of exposure to high levels of condensation. Therefore, we would strongly advise that a suitable extractor fan is installed to ensure adequate ventilation is maintained. Not doing so. is likely to invalidate the guarantees on your products, and furniture items. Please consult with each manufacturer to understand their specific ventilation requirements.
- 4.12 Promotional offers.
- 4.12.1 Eligibility for promotional offers. Your eligibility for promotional offers is subject to planning and acceptance dates as specified within each promotion. In-home appointments are subject to availability within the promotion period.
- 4.12.2 Promotional Offer Restrictions. Only one promotional offer can be used at any one time and cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer.
- 4.12.3 Promotional Offer Terms. Each promotional offer will be subject to its own specific terms and conditions which must be read in conjunction with these terms and conditions. These standard terms and conditions will always take precedence over any other terms.
- 4.13 Worktop Templating. - Although we make every effort to ensure that you have an accurate estimate, we may need to make certain assumptions during the initial visit, or any subsequent visits by the planner. Our specialist worktop installers will conduct a templating visit, and it is during or after this visit that certain additional tasks or requirements may become apparent. Should this occur, we will inform you of any necessary extra work and the associated costs, including any additional charges for access or installation complexities that were not identified initially. A revised estimate will be provided, and we will require your signed acceptance and agreement to the additional costs within 48 hours of receipt in order to proceed with your order or installation. Please read Section 5 & Term 15.5
- 4.14 Project Risk. When quoting, it may not be possible for us to identify every project risk including, but not limited to, the discovery of asbestos, gases, water damage, pest infestation, building or structural defects, or other such instances that could affect, delay, vary, halt or stop the installation whilst remedial or additional work is undertaken. For example:
- If, upon removal of the existing kitchen, the plaster on the walls is damaged, replastering may be required before we can proceed with the installation.
 - Should the flooring beneath the existing cabinetry be found to be damp and unsuitable, new floorboards must be installed before the new kitchen can be fitted.
- In instances where additional work is required, the kitchen installer may provide a separate estimate to complete the necessary tasks. This will establish a private agreement directly between you and the installer. Please be aware that John Lewis is not responsible or liable for any private work carried out by the kitchen fitter. Alternatively, you have the option to engage your own tradesperson to perform the supplementary work. John Lewis is not responsible or liable for any private work carried out by your own tradesperson. John Lewis's commitment is to deliver the services detailed within your signed estimate. While we have confidence in the capabilities of our kitchen fitters to fulfil the services we have expressly agreed with you (as outlined in the signed estimate), any supplementary services they may offer are beyond our scope and are undertaken at your own risk.

- 4.15 Electrical / Gas work. When setting prices for electrical & or gas work, we base them upon the assumption that the existing installation in your home meets current standards and regulations. If our installer finds that this is not the case, the kitchen installer may offer a separate estimate for the necessary corrective work. This estimate will establish a private agreement directly between you and the kitchen installer. John Lewis holds no responsibility or liability for any private work undertaken by the kitchen installer. You can also have this supplementary or corrective work undertaken by your own tradesperson, when you choose to do so, John Lewis holds no responsibility or liability for any private work undertaken by your own tradesperson.

For Instance:

- (a) If the consumer unit in your property does not meet current standards and requires an upgrade, this will need to be arranged privately with the installer or another qualified electrician.
- (b) Should your new appliance require a higher power connection than the existing one, and new cabling is needed from your consumer unit to the appliance, this work will also be subject to a private arrangement.

- 4.16 Assumptions. Although we make every effort to ensure that all work has an accurate estimate, the planner will have made certain assumptions during the initial visit. Our installers will have completed a pre-site survey to confirm the feasibility of the design. Certain tasks or requirements may only become apparent after the pre-site survey and/or once your existing installation has been removed. Should the supplementary work required be outside the range of our installation services, the kitchen installer may offer you a separate estimate. Accepting this estimate will establish a private contract between you and the installer, for which John Lewis bears no responsibility or liability. While we trust our kitchen fitters to competently perform the agreed-upon services detailed in your signed estimate, please be aware that any extra services they propose are not covered by John Lewis and are accepted at your own risk. You also have the option to hire an independent tradesperson for these additional tasks. In the event of changes to the John Lewis installation, we will provide a revised estimate for your approval. Your signed consent to this updated estimate is required before we can proceed with any alterations to your order or the installation process. Please be aware that if you choose to engage a tradesperson for any additional work outside of our provided services, this decision and the resulting work are at your own risk.

- 4.17 Pre-Site Survey. Our nominated fitters are all DBS checked and vetted for your peace of mind. Should you require work that extends beyond the standard John Lewis installation, our fitters can provide a private estimate for these additional services during the Pre-Site Survey, should you request it. Please note that you are under no obligation to accept their estimate and are free to arrange for your own tradespeople to carry out any extra work you may need. John Lewis will not replace the nominated fitter assigned to your installation based on any additional work they have estimated for, or work that is not included in the John Lewis installation standard. While we have confidence in our kitchen fitters to competently carry out the services outlined in your signed estimate, it is important to note that any additional services they offer are not included in the John Lewis installation package. Should you choose to accept any such extra services, please understand that they are provided under a separate arrangement directly with the fitter and are entirely at your own risk. John Lewis does not provide warranties or accept liability for any private work undertaken by our kitchen fitters. Similarly, should you opt to employ an independent tradesperson to conduct any work beyond the scope of our services, this engagement is your responsibility, and the work is carried out at your own risk. John Lewis cannot be held liable for the actions or outcomes of services performed by tradespeople which you appoint.

5. WORKTOPS / SPLASHBACKS & UPSTANDS

- 5.1 Natural occurring materials Should you wish to have a kitchen work surface that is uniform in its finish and appearance then you should choose a worktop that is NOT derived from a naturally occurring material.
- 5.2 Natural Stone and Quartz. Natural Stone and quartz are naturally occurring materials quarried from the ground.
- 5.2.1 Colours, hues, and markings -there will be variations in colour, tone, and veining between the worktops you receive and the samples and shop-floor displays you have seen. Please be aware when considering your order, samples should only be used as a guide to the colour, as an exact match to the samples cannot be guaranteed.
- 5.2.2 Surface Pitting - surface pitting is a natural characteristic of Natural Stone and varies from material to material and slab to slab. Pits are due to small empty pockets between the various mineral crystals in the stone, which fill with softer minerals. When Natural Stone is cut and polished the soft mineral deposits are removed leaving the appearance of pits on the surface. These pits do not affect the performance of the mineral, they are part of the natural product and cannot be removed. Please be aware when considering your order, samples should only be used as a guide to the surface condition, pitting may be present in your worktop.

- 5.2.3 Rejection - you won't be able to reject the products, nor claim compensation for variations between the sample or description of the products, where such variations are due to the fact that you have chosen a worktop that is derived from a naturally occurring material.

5.3 Glass splashback - self-measure - for specific size and style only

- 5.3.1 Where you have provided us with your own measurements for your glass splashback. We recommend that these measurements are taken by a competent trade person.
- 5.3.2 You are responsible for ensuring the accuracy of your measurements. John Lewis cannot be held liable if the measurements provided are found to be incorrect, resulting in a splashback that does not fit. Any costs associated with the replacement of the splashback will be borne by you.
- 5.3.3 Glass splashbacks that are not installed by a John Lewis installer are not covered by any John Lewis warranty.

5.4 If you change your mind - worktops /upstands/splashbacks

Because our worktops /upstands/splashbacks are manufactured to meet each customer's specific requirements, you cannot change your specifications once your order has been placed. Any alterations to your accepted estimate, including those requested during a templating appointment, will incur additional charges. This applies to both added services and to any items cancelled after the order has been placed. This does not affect your statutory rights.

- 5.4.1 If you decide to cancel after your order has been placed, you will forfeit your deposit.

6. CHANGING YOUR ESTIMATE

6.1 Changing your estimate because you have changed the room layout

If your kitchen structure changes after our planning visit, you must let us know so that we can arrange a second visit to reassess your requirements. Please be aware that any such changes could result in adjustments to your estimate, including costs associated with replacements or modifications to the initial design. You will be responsible for the cost of any replacements or alterations that may be needed or will be incorporated.

6.2 Changing your estimate because you have changed your mind

Because our units and worktops are manufactured to meet each customer's specific requirements, we may not be able to accommodate any changes to your order once it has been placed. Any alteration to your accepted estimate may result in an additional cost to you.

7. PROJECT EXECUTION AND HANDOVER (WHERE INSTALLATION IS PART OF THE CONTRACT)

- 7.1 A team of skilled installers will be appointed by us to carry out your installation and kitchen project sign-off. Please note that our installers will sign off only on tasks that are explicitly itemised in the estimate we've provided. Should there be any extra work that's not included in your signed estimate—even if carried out by our installers under a separate arrangement with you—such work will not be subject to our inspection, validation, or liability. It remains your responsibility to ensure that any additional work complies with the relevant standards and regulations. If you have any queries, please speak to your Case Manager at the John Lewis Contact Centre on 0345 6081070.
- 7.2 Timescales & Variations. Please note that because the period of time needed to install a kitchen varies from home to home, the timescales we provide are a guide only. Installing a kitchen is a complex business and whilst we will try to finish your kitchen during the initial installation period, remedial work may be required which can extend the original completion date. Our installers may have to make return visits to your home if there are supplier delay issues.
- 7.3 Consequential losses. We do not pay for indirect costs that you may incur should an installation be delayed because of an action or omission of ours.
- 7.4 John Lewis Installation Standard. The installation costs from John Lewis encompass services carried out by rigorously vetted installers, each of whom has been subject to a comprehensive DBS check prior to their appointment. The installation services may include the following, provided they are specified in your estimate:
- (i) Professional Pre-site Survey: Before installation, a professional pre-site survey will be conducted to confirm plans, measurements, wall alignment, and requirements for electrical, water, and gas supplies. The pre-site survey not only facilitates the planning of your installation but also offers a chance for you to discuss any private or supplementary work directly with your nominated installer which would be outside the scope of the standard John Lewis installation and contract.
 - (ii) Removal and waste disposal of your current kitchen.

7.5 Works outside of the John Lewis Installation Standard. Any work not included in the above list is considered beyond the scope of the John Lewis installation standard and is considered supplementary. It is important to note that such supplementary works will not be included within our standard installation costs and service offering. Supplementary works include but are not limited to:

- (a) Modifications or alterations to existing plumbing, electrical, and gas systems, where these are not specifically stated in your estimate.
- (b) The undertaking of additional electrical and gas work beyond what is specifically stated in your estimate.
- (c) Appliance Ducting due to the varying and differing requirements to duct appliances.

This includes arranging and managing the execution of such works with an installer of your choice, which may be a John Lewis kitchen installer, or another tradesperson selected by you. John Lewis will not manage, oversee, or assume liability for supplementary works, as they are not covered by our standard installation costs. It is your duty to ensure that all necessary contracts and arrangements are in place for the completion of these works. In the event of any complaints or disputes arising from these arrangements, you are responsible for raising these directly with your chosen supplier. John Lewis will not be involved in resolving any complaints or disputes that may arise from these external arrangements.

The maximum length of storage is 5 weeks. This storage charge is in addition to the £500 delivery postponement fee set out in paragraph 10.4 above.
- 10.6 Storage at your home prior to installation. Please make sure that all your ordered items including but not limited to kitchen furniture, appliances, worktops, splashbacks, and upstands are properly and safely stored following any guidelines provided to you by John Lewis and/or the manufacturer before installation begins. Improper storage will void your warranty, and any replacements needed as a result would be at your expense. For instance, wooden and laminate worktops must be stored flat to prevent damage, if they are not any replacements would be charged for.
- 10.7 Storage conditions. New kitchen furniture and any associated accessories should not be stored in a damp or freshly plastered space as John Lewis cannot accept liability for any damage or deterioration to furniture stored under these conditions. These items should be stored indoors. Please ensure you have adequate space to store all products purchased as part of your order.

- 11.2 Supply & Installation - the products will be checked by the John Lewis installation team and any faulty, damaged, or missing items will be reported to us by the team.

12. HEALTH AND SAFETY

- 12.1 You must provide a safe working environment for installation. This includes but is not limited to providing safe access to the area of the installation for any of our employees, agents and subcontractors, and other persons carrying out the installation. We will not be liable for any delay in installation where this is caused by an unsafe working environment that you have provided. You are not responsible for any actions by our employees, agents, or subcontractors that adversely affect the safe working environment and nothing in this contract limits our responsibility with regard to the health and safety of our employees.
- 12.2 Facilities. It is your responsibility to provide welfare facilities including access to a toilet for the installation team. If you wish to provide a portable toilet then you must arrange and purchase this yourself, this is not a service John Lewis can provide or arrange. John Lewis will not be involved in the placement or removal of any portable toilet facilities. You will be responsible for the maintenance of all portable toilet facilities and ensuring their proper function throughout the installation process.

13. WHAT HAPPENS BEFORE YOUR INSTALLATION (WHERE INSTALLATION IS PART OF THE CONTRACT)

- 13.1 Scheduling your installation. When scheduling your installation, we will work with you to select a date that accommodates both your schedule and the availability of our installers.
- 13.2 Rescheduling your Installation. Our installers are booked several weeks ahead of your scheduled installation so if you wish to reschedule, please call us on 0345 608 1070 at least four weeks before your scheduled installation date. If you wish to reschedule less than four weeks before your installation, we will charge a rescheduled installation fee of £600. You may also be charged a commensurate cost of storage for your products in line with terms 10.4/10.5. Rescheduling your installation will also result in any promotional price being withdrawn if the rescheduled installation falls outside of the promotional fit window.
- 13.3 Rescheduling your installation due to private works. It is your responsibility to ensure that your room is ready for the installation to be carried out. Any delay relating to the delivery or installation of your kitchen will incur additional charges, depending on the type and length of the delay.
- 13.4 Before your installation We will contact you to give you details of the installation schedule, which will include dates regarding delivery of your ordered products. During this communication, we will also go over a list of tasks you'll need to complete before the commencement of your installation. These tasks may include moving objects out of the installation area, emptying your kitchen of all items, removing any items from existing cabinets, ensuring timely access to your property, and any other necessary preparations.

- 13.5 Parking restrictions and vehicle access. If you haven't already informed us, please contact us on 0345 608 1070 to let us know of any parking restrictions or vehicle access challenges. If parking requires permission or additional permits, you will need to arrange this ahead of the installation at your own cost. If you don't provide the relevant parking permissions and we're unable to park to access your property, this will result in your installation being delayed, which may result in additional charges. If the installation is rescheduled, additional costs will apply (see 13.2).
- 13.6 Restrictions to your property or the installation area. Please inform us in advance of any restrictions within your property such as no lift access (if a flat) or if building works are in progress, by calling us on 0345 608 1070.
- 13.7 Waste - If we are tasked with waste removal in respect of your installation, you must designate a safe and accessible area for the temporary storage and subsequent removal of this waste. Such storage space needs to be accessible for our third-party waste company to collect. Please ensure that the installer is aware of the agreed position prior to commencement. : FITTED KITCHENS - PLANNING VISIT, SUPPLY AND INSTALLATION

These terms and conditions apply to you, as you have requested and ordered products and services relating to the planning visit, supply, and installation of your kitchen project.

Please read these in conjunction with conditions 1-26 before you sign the acceptance form supplied with your estimate. If you are unclear about any point, please ask us for clarification. Please note that no modification of these conditions will be recognised by us unless we acknowledge it in writing.

1. Kitchen Installation.

- (i) Installing your kitchen Fitting a kitchen is a building project that will disrupt your routine. The kitchen working area may be unusable for a time. It may be necessary to temporarily disconnect services such as gas, water, and electricity. Fitting a kitchen is a dusty job and our installers will keep your kitchen and agreed working area as tidy as possible. Please ensure to protect the other areas and items within your property from dust during the installation.
- (ii) Rescheduling your installation due to private works. It is your responsibility to ensure that your room is ready for the installation to be carried out. Any delay relating to the delivery or installation of your kitchen will incur additional charges depending on the type and length of the delay.
- (iii) Your installation scope. Please read your project scope, the notes on your plan, and your estimate carefully before you accept them. Any work not specified will not have been included in the estimate. Any additional installation requirements will have to be discussed and paid for separately.
- (iv) Installation Period. While we try to finish your kitchen during the initial installation period, remedial work may be required. Our installer may make return visits to your home in order to complete the installation as soon as is practicable.
- (v) Removing tiles
 - (i) If we are removing tiles, the walls will be made good for re-tiling purposes only (and on the assumption that the wall plaster is sound and remains attached during removal). Re-tiling is not included within our standard installation service. The surface will not be suitable for painting or wallpaper decoration.
 - (ii) If, during tile removal, we find any re-plastering is needed in order to continue with the installation of your kitchen, we shall let you know. The kitchen installer may provide you with a private estimate for any additional work required, which would create a separate agreement directly between you and the installer. While we have confidence in our kitchen fitters to competently carry out the services outlined in your signed estimate, it is important to note that any additional services they offer are not included in the John Lewis installation package. Should you choose to accept any such extra services, please understand that they are provided under a separate arrangement directly with the fitter and are entirely at your own risk. John Lewis does not provide warranties or accept liability for any private work undertaken by our kitchen fitters. Similarly, should you opt to employ an independent tradesperson to conduct any work beyond the scope of our services, this engagement is your responsibility, and the work is carried out at your own risk. In the unlikely event of extensive re-plastering being required please be aware that this could result in the installation of the units being delayed or postponed. Should this occur, any resulting delays or storage needs will incur additional charges.

- (vi) Excess Products. You may be left with spare products and or materials at the end of your installation, these items are non-returnable and non-refundable and we advise that you store these safely in case you require them in the future.

2. If you are buying specialist worktops from John Lewis

- (i) To ensure a perfect fit, Corian, Natural Stone, glass, quartz and some wooden worktops require a template to be taken after the main kitchen units have been fitted. In these cases, we will fit temporary worktops in the sink and cooking area only. You must be present to sign off the templating document.
- (ii) Cancelling or re-arranging a templating or installation visit for your specialist worktop. If a templating or installation appointment cannot take place due to your own actions or that of a third party instructed by you and is cancelled or changed within 48 hours of the booked appointment you will be liable for an abort fee. This fee applicable will be £550 for an aborted fit and £230 for an aborted templating appointment.
- (iii) Removal of temporary worktops. We will return to remove the temporary worktops and fit the specialist worktops once they have been manufactured. Because this can be a dusty process, we advise you to cover vulnerable items.
- (iv) Delivery of specialist worktops. Please note that delivery and installation lead times for specialist worktops can range between two and six weeks following templating. In cases where your selected material is in limited supply, the wait time may be longer. Of course, we will endeavour to keep you informed of any delays.

: FITTED KITCHEN - PLANNING VISIT AND SUPPLY ONLY

These terms and conditions apply to you, as you have requested and ordered products and services relating to the planning visit and supply-only element of your kitchen project.

Please read these in conjunction with conditions 1 -26 and relevant promotional terms and conditions before you sign the acceptance form supplied with your estimate. If you are unclear about any point, please ask us for clarification. Please note that no modification of these conditions will be recognised by us unless we acknowledge it in writing.

1. Installation Advice

- (i) We understand that you are arranging for the installation of the kitchen, its appliances, and its accessories. We are happy to advise you that your JL kitchen planner will be happy to discuss any aspect of your plan with your installer before installation begins. John Lewis cannot accept responsibility for subsequent misinterpretation or misunderstanding once installation has started.
- (ii) Rescheduling your installation due to private works. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are ready to take delivery of your kitchen. If you are not ready to take delivery of your kitchen or a delivery requires to be rescheduled, additional charges will apply.

2. Checking your order

- (i) When you receive the products you are responsible for checking faulty, damaged, or missing items as soon as practicable and report any issues to John Lewis within 5 calendar days of delivery and before the item or items are fitted. Failure to do so may result in you having to pay for replacements.

3. Replacement parts

- (i) Installing a kitchen can be a complex business and your installer may need to return to your home to finish the work. While we do our best to obtain any extra items as quickly as possible, we cannot be responsible for any parts that need to be replaced or accept any additional fitting costs you may incur. Normally it takes two to six weeks for items to be replaced, depending on the manufacturer.

4. Preparing for installation of Natural Stone, Corian, quartz, glass and some wooden worktops

- (i) To ensure accurate installation of Natural Stone, Corian, quartz, ceramic, Solid surface, glass and some wooden worktops, a template will be taken after the main kitchen units have been fitted. All existing worktops and any tiles at worktop level will need to be removed in order for accurate measurements to be taken.
- (ii) Cancelling or re-arranging a templating or installation visit for your specialist worktop If a templating or installation appointment cannot take place due to your own actions or that of a third party instructed by you and is cancelled or changed within 48 hours of the booked appointment you will be liable for an abort fee. The applicable fee will be £550 for an aborted fit and £230 for an aborted templating appointment.
- (iii) It is essential that the base units have been fitted correctly (i.e. level, aligned, and securely fixed to the walls using battens).
- (iv) You will need to ensure that your installer is available to disconnect and reconnect any services (e.g. gas, water, and electricity) when we return to fit the new worktops.
- (v) Please ensure that the sink and hob are on site and that someone is available to confirm positions of all cut-outs. Because this can be a dusty process, we advise you to cover items that are vulnerable to dust.
- (vi) Please note that delivery and installation lead times for specialist worktops can range from between two and six weeks following templating or longer if your chosen material is in short supply. We will keep you informed of any possible delays.

5. Preparing for installation of some solid wood, laminate, Mariz, Metis or Minerva worktops

If you are buying a non specialist worktops from John Lewis

- (i) These worktops will not require templating as they can be cut to size on-site. However, the jointing method on Metis and Minerva worktops will require a specialist installer to complete this task. Not following the manufacturer's installation guidelines and storage stipulations will invalidate the warranty on the product.
- (ii) A planning visit may be required if the layout is particularly complex; otherwise, an order can be taken from your own measurements. Please note that we will not carry out a planning visit for laminate worktops.
- (iii) The worktop plan would need to be fully dimensioned with the exact position of the sink or sink base unit from a fixed point marked on the plan.

In this case, John Lewis cannot accept responsibility if your measurements prove to be incorrect. We would therefore reserve the right to make an additional charge if replacements are required.
